

YOUR TEAMMATE
TELLS YOU THE COACH
IS ALWAYS TOUCHING
THEM TO CORRECT
THEIR STANCE AND IT FEELS WEIRD.

DRAW — THE — LINE.CA

DO YOU TELL THEM
THEY'RE WORRYING
ABOUT NOTHING?

A person in a position of authority cannot use that power in a way that makes you feel uncomfortable or violated.

WHY DRAW THE LINE

When we ignore signs of sexual violence, we contribute to its silencing. Any sexual contact between a person younger than 18 years of age and a person of authority is legally considered sexual assault.

WHEN TO DRAW THE LINE

Sexual assault is sexual contact with another person without their consent. This may occur by isolating a student from the rest of their teammates and by using authority in an intimidating and threatening manner – these can all be signs of sexual assault.

HOW TO DRAW THE LINE

There is always more than one option for a bystander. You can:
Support and believe: Listen to them, ask them if they are okay and encourage them to speak with someone.
Report it: Tell someone you trust - a teacher, a principal, a parent/caregiver or elder.
